MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW & OUTLOOK

GLOBAL ECONOMY:

The global economy continued to exhibit resilience during the year despite heightened geopolitical tensions and persistent trade uncertainties. According to the International Monetary Fund (IMF) – World Economic Outlook Update, July 2026, global GDP growth is projected at 3.0% in 2026, improving to 3.4% in 2027. While global growth remains below its historical average, technological advancements, particularly in artificial intelligence (AI), and continued investment have supported economic activity.

Growth performance remains uneven across regions, with emerging and developing economies continuing to outpace most advanced economies. Although global inflationary pressures have moderated, central banks remain cautious in their monetary policy approach amid lingering risks from geopolitical conflicts, trade fragmentation, elevated public debt, and volatile commodity prices. The IMF emphasizes that prudent macroeconomic policies, structural reforms, and international cooperation will be essential to sustain growth and strengthen global economic resilience. [Source: International Monetary Fund (IMF), World Economic Outlook Update – July 2026.]

The global economy continues to demonstrate resilience despite persistent geopolitical tensions and trade uncertainties. Growth remains uneven across regions, with AI-driven investment supporting technology-intensive economies, while higher energy prices and geopolitical conflicts continue to weigh on energy-importing and vulnerable economies. Although financial conditions have eased, global disinflation has stalled, and inflationary pressures remain a key concern. Emerging and developing economies, particularly in Asia, are expected to remain the primary drivers of global growth, supported by resilient domestic demand and investment. Overall, the outlook remains cautiously positive, though downside risks from geopolitical conflicts, trade fragmentation, and financial market volatility persist. [Source: <https://www.imf.org/en/publications/>]

Within the broader textile sector, the technical textiles industry, the segment in which your Company operates, continued to record growth ahead of the sector as a whole. Technical textiles are engineered for functional performance rather than aesthetic appeal, and demand is therefore driven by industrial, infrastructure, healthcare, mobility and defense end-uses rather than by fashion or apparel cycles. The global technical textiles market was valued at approximately US$247 billion in 2025 and is projected to reach approximately US$325 billion by 2030, representing a compound annual growth rate of about 5.6%. The Asia-Pacific region accounts for approximately 47% of global consumption, led by China, India, Japan and South Korea. [Source: Markets and Markets, Technical Textiles Market, July 2025; Grand View Research.]

The global market for coated and laminated fabrics, the sub-segment most directly relevant to your Company, continued to expand on the substitution of conventional materials such as metal, rigid plastic and uncoated canvas with engineered polymer-coated substrates that are lighter, stronger, weather-resistant and longer-lasting. Demand for offset rubber printing blankets, the Company's other principal product line, is linked to the commercial and packaging printing industry, where growth in packaging, labelling and security printing has more than offset the structural decline in publication and newspaper printing. A printing blanket is a consumable, replaced on a defined wear cycle rather than a capital item, which lends this demand a recurring character comparatively insulated from the capital expenditure cycles of the printing industry.

INDIAN ECONOMY:

India remained one of the fastest-growing major economies during FY2025-26, supported by strong domestic demand, sustained infrastructure spending and improving manufacturing activity. Real GDP growth was estimated at 7.7%, driven by resilient consumption, healthy investment momentum and improving industrial output. Rising localisation initiatives, strong government focus on infrastructure development and improving supply chain resilience further supported economic activity during the year. [source: <https://www.mospi.gov.in/>]

India's technical textiles sector continued to strengthen during the year, supported by sustained policy focus, expanding domestic manufacturing capability and increasing substitution of imported specialty materials. Unlike conventional textiles, where India competes principally on scale and cost, the technical textiles segment competes on specification, qualification and consistency of performance — characteristics that favor established manufacturers with in-house testing capability and international accreditations. Domestic demand was underpinned during the year by infrastructure execution, defense procurement, healthcare expenditure and the continued expansion of organized packaging and logistics.

The Indian economy continued to benefit from stable monetary conditions and a resilient financial system. Retail CPI inflation remained within the RBI's tolerance band despite some recent moderation, while the Reserve Bank of India maintained the policy repo rate at 5.25%, supporting macroeconomic stability and sustained growth. Robust GST collections, healthy bank credit expansion, improving asset quality in the banking sector, and continued public and private capital expenditure provided a strong foundation for industrial activity and long-term economic growth. India remains the world's second-largest producer of textiles and garments and the sixth-largest exporter, accounting for 4.1% of global textile and apparel trade. Indian textile exports in FY 2025-26 were approximately 3.16 lakh crore, an increase of 2.1% over the previous year — a creditable outcome given that tariffs on Indian goods entering the United States, the single largest export market, rose to 50% with effect from August 27, 2025 before being reduced to approximately 18% under the interim trade understanding of February 2026. Within this, technical textiles remain among the fastest-growing export categories and a declared priority of national industrial policy. [Source: Ministry of Textiles, Annual Report 2025-26.]

TECHNICAL TEXTILES & RUBBER INDUSTRY: GLOBAL

Technical textiles are engineered textile materials manufactured primarily for their performance and functional properties rather than for aesthetic characteristics. Growth in these markets is driven by expanding applications across automotive and mobility, healthcare, construction and infrastructure, agriculture, industrial manufacturing, defence, aerospace, packaging, filtration and protective equipment. Rising infrastructure investment, substitution of conventional materials with lightweight high-strength alternatives, rapid urbanisation, growing healthcare expenditure and increasingly stringent safety and environmental regulation are together accelerating adoption. The continuing shift towards recyclable, biodegradable and smart textiles is creating further avenues for innovation and value addition. [Source: Markets and Markets, Technical Textiles Market, July 2025.]

Of the twelve recognised categories of technical textiles, your Company's product range addresses Indutech (industrial fabrics and filtration), Buildtech (architectural and flexible membranes for civil structures), Mobiltech (transport, automotive, aeronautic and space applications), Protech (protective clothing), Meditech (healthcare and medical substrates), Packtech (tarpaulins, covers and liners), Geotech (geotextiles) and Sportech. Coated and laminated fabrics, which form the core of the Company's technical textiles offering, constitute one of the larger and faster-growing sub-segments, benefiting from the substitution of metal, rigid plastic and uncoated canvas across construction, transport, agriculture and storage applications. Non-wovens, geotextiles and medical textiles are also expanding rapidly, supported by infrastructure development, electric vehicle adoption, renewable energy projects and healthcare demand.

The Company's rubber products business is anchored in offset rubber printing blankets used in sheet-fed, web, metal decorating, packaging and security printing. Global demand in this line tracks the commercial and packaging printing industry, where growth in packaging, labelling and security printing — driven by e-commerce, organised retail, food safety regulation and anti-counterfeiting requirements — has more than offset the structural decline in publication and newspaper printing. Qualification of printing blankets by press manufacturers and printers is exacting and creates meaningful switching costs, which supports both customer retention and pricing. Taken together, technical textiles and rubber products are expected to remain among the fastest-growing segments of the global textiles sector, offering sustained long-term opportunity to manufacturers with established quality credentials, international accreditations and in-house research capability.

TECHNICAL TEXTILES & RUBBER INDUSTRY: INDIA

The Government of India continues to accord high priority to the technical textiles sector, which it has identified as a sunrise segment within the wider textile industry. The long-term policy vision is to establish India as a global hub for man-made fibre and technical textiles, in support of the objective of achieving US$100 billion in textile exports by 2030. The Production Linked Incentive Scheme for Textiles, which covers MMF apparel, MMF fabrics and technical textiles, was made materially more accessible during the year: amendments notified in October 2025 halved minimum investment thresholds, reduced the incremental turnover requirement from 25% to 10% and added seventeen new HSN codes to the eligible product basket, improving participation particularly by mid-sized enterprises. Under Round III of the Scheme, 52 applications were approved in April 2026, of which 18 were in technical textiles — the largest single category — taking cumulative Round III approvals to 96 companies with committed investment of ₹ 12,822.67 crore by June 2026.

Infrastructure and innovation form the second pillar of policy. Under the PM MITRA (Mega Integrated Textile Region and Apparel) Park Scheme, seven integrated parks are being developed with an approved outlay of ₹ 4,445 crore, with progress recorded in land acquisition, infrastructure development and project implementation. The National Technical Textiles Mission continues to drive research, skilling and market development: as of FY 2025-26 the Mission has supported 168 research and development projects with approved funding of approximately ₹ 520 crore, backed 24 start-ups and assisted 45 educational institutions, including IITs and NITs, in developing specialised technical textile courses and research infrastructure. The Mission has also facilitated the notification of Quality Control Orders covering a wide range of finished technical textile products, raising quality standards and encouraging import substitution, while Quality Control Orders on inputs and machinery — including viscose staple fibre, polymer and fibre intermediates, textile machinery and cotton bales — were progressively withdrawn between November 2025 and June 2026, easing raw material and equipment sourcing for manufacturers.

Fiscal and trade measures provide further support. The Rebate of State and Central Taxes and Levies (RoSCTL) scheme has been extended up to September 30, 2026, sustaining export cost competitiveness; industry bodies continue to seek a longer-horizon extension to enable multi-year export planning. The rationalisation of Goods and Services Tax rates with effect from September 22, 2025 reduced the rate on man-made fibre from 18% to 5% and on MMF yarn from 12% to 5%, with fabric at a uniform 5%, correcting a long-standing inverted duty structure that had blocked working capital across the man-made fibre value chain. On the trade front, the India-United Kingdom Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement entered into force on July 15, 2026, providing zero-duty access across 1,143 textile tariff lines and removing United Kingdom duties of up to 12%; the first consignments under the Agreement were flagged off from the Inland Container Depot at Sanand. The India-EFTA agreement came into force on October 1, 2025 and the India-European Union agreement was concluded on January 27, 2026, with implementation expected over the following year. Collectively, these measures are expected to accelerate investment, promote innovation, reduce import dependence in speciality technical textile materials and strengthen India's position as a leading global supplier of technical textiles.

STRENGTH AND WEAKNESS:

STRENGTH:

Technical textiles have seen an upward trend globally in the recent years due to improving economic conditions. Technological advancements, increase in end-use applications, cost-effectiveness, durability, user-friendliness and eco-friendliness of technical textiles has led to the upsurge of its demand in the global market. Indutech, Mobiltech, Packtech, Buildtech and Hometech together represent 2/3rd of the global market in value. The Ministry of Textiles under the Government of India has taken some significant steps to promote the Textile Industry and Technical Textile Industries in the Country. Fund Scheme and PLI Schemes aims at making available funds to the domestic textile industry for technology up-gradation and setting up of new units. This scheme aims to generate annual growth in volume terms in cloth production and in value terms in exports by increasing domestic value addition and technology depth and enhancing global competitiveness.

The Government of India and various State Governments continue to strengthen the textile and technical textile sector through focused policy support and investment incentives. Key initiatives such as the National Technical Textiles Mission (NTTM), the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Textiles and technology upgradation programmes are aimed at promoting domestic manufacturing, innovation, value addition, exports and employment. Under the Union Budget 2026-27, the Government reaffirmed its commitment to the PLI Scheme for MMF apparel, fabrics and technical textiles, while continuing measures to enhance the sector's global competitiveness. In April 2026, the Government also approved 52 additional projects under Round III of the PLI Scheme, including 18 projects in the technical textiles segment, reflecting sustained investment in the industry.

Although India is one of the world's largest textile producers and exporters, the technical textile industry continues to depend significantly on imports for speciality fibres, high-performance yarns and other advanced raw materials. Domestic manufacturing is primarily concentrated in products such as industrial fabrics, canvas tarpaulins, woven sacks, carpet backing, awnings, canopies, blinds, shoelaces, soft luggage, zip fasteners, stuffed toys and other engineered textile applications. The sector's continued reliance on imported speciality fibres presents an opportunity to strengthen domestic manufacturing capabilities. Ongoing policy support, increased investments in research and development under the National Technical Textiles Mission, capacity expansion and technological advancements are expected to reduce import dependence, enhance the domestic value chain and accelerate the sustainable growth of India's technical textile industry.

WEAKNESSES

Technical textiles face key hurdles including high production costs, specialized machinery import dependencies, low consumer and end-user awareness, complex recycling challenges due to polymer blends, and a general lack of unified global standardisation.

Economic and Market Weaknesses

- High cost: Advanced materials and R&D make items expensive.
- Import reliance: Heavy dependence on foreign high-tech machinery.
- Low awareness: End-users often do not know how to use them properly.
- Niche market: Small demand volumes for specialized products limit mass production economies.

Environmental and Technical Constraints

- Hard to recycle: Complex polymer blends and chemical treatments resist standard recycling.
- Disposal issues: Non-biodegradable synthetics add to long-term waste.
- Standard gaps: Lack of clear regulations and testing standards across sectors.
- Skill shortage: Workers need high training to handle advanced manufacturing processes

OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS:

OPPORTUNITIES:

- Healthcare and Hygiene Expansion: Surging demand for advanced Medtech items like antimicrobial surgical drapes, specialized wound care, and protective medical wear.
- Infrastructure and Geotextiles: Rising investments in civil engineering, road construction, and soil stabilization create heavy needs for Geotech and Buildtech materials.
- Smart Textiles and Nanotechnology: Embedding sensors, electronics, and nano-coatings into fabrics for defense, athletic performance, and health tracking.
- Automotive and Aerospace Lightweighting: Increasing EV manufacturing and stringent safety norms demand high-performance composites, airbags, and Mobiltech components.

THREATS:

- High Innovation and R&D Costs: Substantial capital barriers to entry for developing advanced synthetic polymers and next-generation smart fabrics.
- Shortage of Skilled Labour: A lack of workforce training in advanced techniques like melt spinning increases production times and limits scalability.
- Import Dependency: Continued reliance on other nations for specialized high-tech fibers and core raw materials in emerging domestic markets.
- Environmental and Compliance Pressures: Strict rules regarding chemical coatings, non-biodegradable synthetic waste, and sustainable disposal of nanomaterials.

OUTLOOK:

With a standout performance in Q4 of FY 2025-26, and reasonably good order book position, we hope to achieve stable growth in revenue for FY 2026-27, maintain or marginally improve the margins and enhancing Return on Capital Employed (ROCE). Despite the global economic headwinds, the Company remains confident in its strategic positioning, particularly in the Technical Textiles and Rubber Division, which has continued to perform well even amid macroeconomic volatility.

Financial Year 2025–26 remained a challenging and volatile period for businesses across most industries, with only a few sectors demonstrating resilience. The global business environment was significantly impacted by persistent geopolitical tensions, including the Russia–Ukraine conflict and the escalating conflict involving the United States and Iran, which disrupted global supply chains and energy markets. These developments, coupled with volatility in crude oil prices, inflationary pressures, elevated logistics costs and continued uncertainty in international trade, posed significant challenges to business operations and profitability. Despite near-term uncertainties, we remain optimistic about the medium term and intend to continue investing in our growth engines. We are glad to inform that our Rubber/ Technical textile business has performed well.

Demand across the textile segment is expected to remain market-specific. While the domestic market is showing signs of recovery and is projected to improve steadily, volumes in the United States may see modest growth or remain flat. The European and UK markets are expected to remain muted in the near term. However, an improvement in export prospects could materialize if India is successful in concluding Free Trade Agreements (FTAs) with key global economies. Demand from South-East Asian countries is expected to strengthen, presenting opportunities for export-led growth.

The Technical Textile business is expected to grow at a steady and secular pace, closely aligned with India's GDP growth trajectory. With the gradual normalization of operations across the textile industry from the beginning of FY 2025–26, we remain very positive about the long-term potential of the technical textiles segment. This optimism is backed by increasing domestic demand, policy support from the Government of India, and strategic initiatives such as the Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme, PM MITRA Parks, and the National Technical Textiles Mission (NTTM)—all of which aim to transform India into a global hub for high-value technical textiles.

In the near term, the performance of the domestic market will be closely tied to macroeconomic revival, consumer sentiment, and capital investment cycles. On the export front, while challenges persist, we believe that improving global demand, particularly in South-East Asia, and better trade facilitation, can help offset some of the current constraints.

While volatility in global markets remains a concern, the Company has continued to strengthen its resilience through product innovation, diversification, and operational efficiency. Barring unforeseen circumstances, we are confident of achieving improved performance in FY 2025 and building a sustainable growth trajectory for our Technical Textiles.

KEY RISKS & CONCERNS

The Technical Textile industry is always subject to facing crisis in a cyclical way. Timely action is needed to overcome this situation by taking corrective and proactive steps, then and there.

The Technical Textile business, like other businesses, is susceptible to various risks. The primary risk factor is raw material prices, mainly cotton and the biggest component of cost. Cotton prices are increasing regularly as are other input costs including power, fuel and logistics. Since cotton is an agricultural produce, it suffers from climatic and seasonal volatility. Whereas such volatility in case of a product higher in the textile value chain is generally passed through an increase in value added products in the basket provides insulation against such volatilities.

The Company monitors price fluctuations and follows inventory management and responsive procurement policy to ensure timely procurement of raw materials at competitive prices. It also engages in contracts with clients and tries to pass on variations in the prices of raw materials to them to protect margins.

The ongoing Middle east Conflict has adversely impacted the global supply chain network. Since majority of the Company's business is exports-oriented and it depends on the supply chain for exporting final products, any kind of disruptions in the supply chain, ever-rising container shipping cost, availability and delays pose severe challenges for the business. Further, inadequate and inefficient logistics in India lead to delays and high costs of logistics.

The geopolitical turmoil, global economic slowdown, high inflation and the threat of a looming recession in key markets like the US and Europe have led to a slowdown in the domestic as well as export market. Demand compression would reduce the Company's business.

The Company is susceptible to disasters and crises such as pandemics, cyclones, earthquakes, geopolitical instability, fire hazards, etc. which may cause operational disruption, shutdown or production cuts, project delays, supply chain hurdles, and increased construction costs. Compliance issues with the environmental norms and regulations and supply chain challenges continue to be issues of concern.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEM & ADEQUACY:

The Company has an adequate system of internal control implemented by the Management towards achieving efficiency in operations, optimum utilization of resources and effective monitoring thereof and compliance with applicable laws. The internal control is supplemented by an extensive programme of Internal Audits. The internal control framework has been developed in line with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

The Internal Audit programme is finalized in consultation with the Internal Auditors and the Audit Committee of the Board. The Audit Committee is briefed on the findings by the Internal Auditors, every quarter, along with the remedial actions that have been recommended or have been taken by the Management to plug systemic weaknesses. The audit committee of the Board meets periodically to review various aspects of the performance of the Company and also review the adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control system and suggests improvement for strengthening then from time to time.

The Company maintains an efficient internal control system commensurate with the size, nature and complexity of its business. The internal control system is responsible for addressing the evolving risks in the business, reliability of financial information, timely reporting of operational and financial transactions, safeguarding of assets and stringent adherence to the applicable laws and regulations. The internal auditors of the Company are responsible for regular monitoring and review of these controls. The Audit Committee periodically reviews the audit reports and ensures correction of any variance, as may be required. Key observations are communicated to the management who undertakes prompt corrective actions.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid Financial Statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at 31 March 2026, and its profit, total comprehensive income, its cash flows and the changes in equity for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the Financial Statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under section 143(10) of the Act (SAs). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Financial Statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Financial Statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Financial Statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the Financial Statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Key Audit Matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Revenue recognition Company's revenue is derived primarily from sale of goods. Revenue from sale of goods is recognised when control of the products being sold is transferred to the customer and there are no longer any unfulfilled performance obligations. The performance obligations in the contracts are fulfilled at the time of dispatch, delivery or upon formal customer acceptance depending on customer terms. Inappropriate assessment could lead to risk of revenue being recognized before transfer of control. In view of the above and since revenue is a key performance indicator of the Company, we have identified timing of revenue recognition from sale of goods as a key audit matter.	In this regard, our audit procedures included: Assessing the appropriateness of the accounting policy for revenue recognition with relevant accounting standards; Evaluating the design and implementation of the Company's key internal financial controls in relation to timing of revenue recognition and tested the operating effectiveness of such controls for selected samples Performing detailed testing by selecting samples of revenue transactions recorded during the year and around the year end date using statistical sampling. We assessed fulfilment of performance obligations during the year by verifying the underlying documents. These documents included contract specifying terms of sale, invoices, goods dispatch notes, customer acceptances and shipping documents; Testing, on a sample basis using specified risk based criteria, journal entries affecting revenue recognised during the year to identify unusual items.
Valuation of Inventories The Company is a technical textile manufacturer and the inventory primarily comprises of yarn, grey fabric, rubber, chemicals and technical textile fabric and rubber printing blankets. Inventories are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value. The Company maintains its inventory levels based on forecast demand and expected future selling prices. There is a risk of inventories being measured at values which are not representative of the lower of costs and net realisable value ("NRV") The Company exercises high degree of judgment in assessing the NRV of the inventories on account of estimation of future market and economic conditions. The carrying value of inventories is material in the context of total assets of the Company. We identified the valuation of inventories as a key audit matter.	In this regard, our audit procedures included: Assessing the appropriateness of the accounting policy for inventories with relevant accounting standards; Evaluating the design and implementation of the Company's key internal financial controls over valuation of inventories and testing the operating effectiveness of such controls for selected samples; Observing the physical verification of inventory on a sample basis. In this regard, we have considered the physical condition of inventory by way of obsolescence or wear and tear, wherever relevant and applicable, in determining the valuation of such inventory. For NRV testing, selecting inventory items, on a sample basis at reporting date and compared their carrying value to their subsequent selling prices as indicated in sales invoices subsequent to the reporting date.

Information other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's report thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information obtained at the date of this auditor's report is information included in the Directors' Report including the Annexures to the Directors' report, but does not include the Financial Statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed on the other information that we obtained prior to the date of this auditor's report, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive income, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Financial Statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- i) Identify and assess the risk of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- ii) Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- iii) Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- iv) Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- v) Evaluate the overall presentation, structures of materiae and content of the Financial Statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Financial Statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of MAHALAXMI RUBTECH LIMITED (“the Company”) as of March 31, 2026 in conjunction with our audit of the Financial Statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for the Internal Financial Controls.

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the Financial Statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of Ind AS financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the Financial Statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market prices comprise three types of risk: foreign currency risk, interest rate risk, investment risk.

Foreign exchange risk arises from the future probable transactions and recognized assets and liabilities denominated in a currency other than company's functional currency.

(i) Statement of Compliance with Ind AS

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) as notified by Ministry of Corporate Affairs pursuant to Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended and other relevant provisions of the Act.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

(ii) Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost convention on accrual basis, except certain financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value.

(iii) Current and non current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in Schedule III to the Act.

(b) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the management to make estimate and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities as at the Balance Sheet date, reported amount of revenue and expenses for the year and disclosures of contingent liabilities as at the Balance Sheet date. The estimates and assumptions used in the accompanying financial statements are based upon the management's evaluation of the relevant facts and circumstances as at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on a periodic basis. Revisions to accounting estimates, if any, are recognized in the year in which the estimates are revised and in any future years affected.

(c) Property, plant and equipment

The Company had applied for the one time transition exemption of considering the carrying cost on the transition date i.e. 1st April, 2016 as the deemed cost under IND AS. Hence regarded thereafter as historical cost.

Property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognized when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss during the year in which they are incurred.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non-current assets and the cost of assets not put to use before such date are disclosed under 'Capital work-in-progress'.

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives

The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment over their estimated useful lives using the straight line method. The estimated useful lives of assets are taken as prescribed useful lives under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. The management believes that such estimated useful lives are realistic and reflect fair approximation of the period over which the assets are likely to be used.

Depreciation on addition to property plant and equipment is provided on pro-rata basis from the date of acquisition. Depreciation on sale/deduction from property plant and equipment is provided up to the date preceding the date of sale, deduction as the case may be. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in Statement of Profit and Loss under 'Other Income' or 'Other Expenses'.

(d) Investment properties

Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any.

(e) Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are stated at acquisition cost, net of accumulated amortization.

(f) Investments in Associates

Investments in Associates are recognised at fair value.

(g) Borrowing cost

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

(h) Foreign Currency Transactions

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ('the functional currency'). The financial statements are presented in Indian rupee (INR), which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

(b) Transactions and balances

On initial recognition, all foreign currency transactions are recorded by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction. Gains/Losses arising out of fluctuation in foreign exchange rate between the transaction date and settlement date are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

All monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are restated at the year end at the exchange rate prevailing at the year end and the exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.

(i) Financial Instruments.
Fair value measurement

The Company has valued financial assets and Financial Liabilities, at fair value. Impact of fair value changes as on date of transition, is recognised in opening reserves and changes there after are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss Account or Other Comprehensive Income, as the case may be.

The Company classifies its investments in mutual fund units as Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL). Mutual fund units are initially recognized at fair value. Subsequently, they are measured at fair value, and all gains and losses arising from changes in fair value are recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The fair value of mutual fund investments is determined using the published Net Asset Value (NAV) declared by the respective mutual fund houses.

Financial Assets

The company classifies its financial assets as those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income or through Profit or loss) and those to be measured at amortised cost.

Financial liabilities
Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings, payables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable to transaction costs.

(j) Revenue Recognition

The company derives revenues primarily from sale of manufactured goods, traded goods, job work and related services.

Revenue is recognised when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured, it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity and specific criteria have been met for each of the companys activities as described below:

Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of goods sold and services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts and schemes offered by the company as part of the contract.

Sale of products:

Revenue from sale of products is recognised when significant risks and rewards in respect of ownership of products are transferred to customers based on the terms of sale. Revenue from sales is based on the price specified in the sales contracts, net of all discounts, returns and goods & service tax at the time of sale.

Interest Income

Interest Income is recognized using effective interest rate method

(k) Taxes

Tax expense for the year, comprising current tax and deferred tax, are included in the determination of the net profit or loss for the year.

(a) Current income tax

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered or paid to the taxation authorities in accordance with the relevant prevailing tax laws. Tax expenses relating to the items in profit & loss account shall be treated as current tax as part of profit and loss and those relating to items in other comprehensive income shall be recognised as part of OCI.

(b) Deferred tax

Deferred income tax is recognised for all the temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in financial statements. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the year and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

At each balance sheet, the company re-assesses unrecognised deferred tax assets, if any, and the same is recognised to the extent it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

(l) Assets classified as held for sale

The Company classifies non-current assets (or disposal group) as held for sale if their carrying amounts will be recovered principally through a sale rather than through continuing use.

Non-current assets (or disposal group) held for sale are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and the fair value less costs to sell. Assets and liabilities (or disposal group) classified as held for sale are presented separately in the balance sheet.

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets once classified as held for sale are not depreciated or amortized.

(m) Leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are not transferred to the Company as a lessee are shown as other non current assets. Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lesser) are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

(n) Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for as follows:

Raw materials, finished goods, semi finished goods, trading goods and stores and spare parts are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost includes purchase price, (excluding taxes those subsequently recoverable by the enterprise from the concerned revenue authorities), freight inwards and other expenditure incurred in bringing such inventories to their present location and condition. In determining the cost, FIFO method is used.

(o) Impairment of assets

The carrying value of assets / cash generating units at the Balance Sheet date are reviewed for impairment, if any indication of impairment exists. If the carrying amount of the assets exceed the estimated recoverable amount, an impairment is recognised for such excess amount. The impairment loss is recognised for such excess amount.

(p) Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognized when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and there is a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are measured at the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the Balance sheet date. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

(q) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks, cash on hand and short-term deposits net of bank overdraft with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, cash in banks and short-term deposits net of bank overdraft.

(r) Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

(I) Financial assets
(i) Initial recognition and measurement

At initial recognition, financial asset is measured at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in profit or loss.

(ii) Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in following categories:

- a) at amortized cost; or
- b) at fair value through other comprehensive income; or
- c) at fair value through profit or loss.

The classification depends on the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

(iii) Impairment of financial assets

The company assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost and FVTOCI debt instruments. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

(iv) Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset is derecognized only when

- a) the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset is transferred or
- b) retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the financial asset is transferred then in that case financial asset is derecognized only if substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset is transferred. Where the entity has not transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is not derecognized.

(II) Financial liabilities
(i) Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and at amortized cost, as appropriate.

(ii) Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Separated embedded derivatives are also classified as held for trading unless they are designated as effective hedging instruments. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost. Gains and losses are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss when the liabilities are derecognized.

(iii) Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as finance costs.

(s) Employee Benefits(I) Short-term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the year in which the employees render the related service are recognized in respect of employees' services up to the end of the year and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

(II) Other long-term employee benefit obligations(i) Defined contribution plan

Provident Fund: Contribution towards provident fund is made to the regulatory authorities, where the Company has no further obligations, apart from the contributions made on a monthly basis which are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Employee's State Insurance Scheme: Contribution towards employees' state insurance scheme is made to the regulatory authorities, where the Company has no further obligations apart from the contributions made on a monthly basis which are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(ii) Defined benefit plans

Gratuity: The Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan (the 'Gratuity Plan') covering eligible employees in accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's salary. The Company's liability is actuarially at the end of each year. Actuarial losses/gains are recognized in the other comprehensive income in the year in which they arise.

(t) Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share is the net profit or loss for the year after deducting preference dividends and any attributable tax thereto for the year, if any. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year and for all the years presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares, that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

(u) Research & Development

Expenditure on research and development is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Expenditure which results in increase in property, plant and equipment are capitalised and depreciated in accordance with the policies stated for property, plant & equipment.

(v) Government grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the company will comply with all the attached conditions. All government grants are initially recognised by way of setting up as deferred income. Government grants relating to income are recognised in the profit & loss account. Government grants relating to purchase of property, plant & equipment are subsequently recognised in profit & loss on a systematic basis over the expected life of the related depreciable assets. Grants recognised in Profit & Loss as above are presented within other income.

(w) Inter divisional transactions

Inter divisional transactions are eliminated as contra items. Any unrealised profits on unsold stocks on account of inter divisional transactions is eliminated while valuing the inventory.

(x) Significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future years.

Estimates and assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the year end date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The Company based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Company. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

(i) Taxes

Significant assumptions and judgements are involved in determining the provision for tax based on tax enactments, relevant judicial pronouncements including an estimation of the likely outcome of any open tax assessments/ litigations. Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable income will be available, based on estimates thereof.

(ii) Defined benefit plans (gratuity benefits and leave encashment)

The cost of the defined benefit plans such as gratuity and leave encashment are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each year end.
